Memorandum for : Project Director of Administration

Subject : Availability of Aircraft for R & R
Purposes at Adana [redacted], 14 May 56)

25X1

1. [redacted] reports that the base at Adana does not have a C-54 under its control. The Base has an occasional availability of a C-54 belonging to some other Air Force detachment not stationed in Turkey; however, this C-54 cannot be counted upon with any reliable schedule for our use. Naturally if it drops into Adana and makes a trip to Greece we could supposedly put some of our personnel on board.

2. Detachment B will have a C-54 assigned for logistics support. There is no doubt that this C-54 can occasionally be used for R & R purposes, but its assignment to Detachment B is justified by the need of logistics support and not for R & R.

3. The Agency aircraft at Wiesbaden and at Athens might have to be used occasionally to haul our personnel on leave trips. It is believed that when the C-118 returns from depot maintenance to the Agency at Wiesbaden it will be sanitized and could be used without tying in the Agency's sponsorship in hauling people from Adana to Athens.
